

It's been a while...

We haven't sent out a newsletter in a while, and thought it was finally time to send you an update!

As many of you know, in the spring of 2021, our founder and editor, Ernie Hadley, died unexpectedly, leaving a gaping hole in our small company. Faced with shuttering, Jayme, NP's art director and production manager since the beginning, was offered the chance to continue what Ernie had started. Since taking over, Jayme's background as a graphic designer and printer has further deepened NP's focus on design and production—both physically and conceptually—and reinvigorated efforts to publish underrepresented voices. As Nevermore evolves, Ernie's desire to share important stories continues to guide our work. He is missed.

New release

Oubliette* book launch

We are thrilled to announce our newest literary title, Oubliette by Hannah Godfrey (AKA hannah_g).

Oubliette holds the charming quips and reminiscences of a mother and the anticipatory grief of her daughter. Hannah Godfrey collected scraps of conversations and recollections she shared with her mum, Ericca, during the last years of her life. In the same notebook, she kept quotes from films and books that articulated the terrible sadness of losing a loved one to a horrible illness. Sweet, funny, and devastating, Oubliette is a poignant, partial portrait of two people who loved each other wonderfully and irreplaceably.

Come out to one of three Nova Scotia book launches

The events will include conversations between Hannah and writer/academic Karin Cope about grief, memory, and love. Not to be missed. Come grab yourself a signed copy and support indie publishing/booksellers.

New look

Nevermore Press (NP)

Nevermore Press (NP) has a new look! The updated logo draws inspiration from the pilcrow ¶, a typographic symbol used to mark a new beginning (usually a paragraph). As we debut our first Fall literary title completed under new ownership, we thought it fitting to relaunch our visual identity as well. Our website has had a design overhaul too, hope you enjoy!

New imprint

Copy Shop Books

In 2022, we launched Phase Variations, a limited, numbered edition art book documenting an exhibition of the same name by NS-based visual artist Lou Sheppard. Acting as an archive in and of itself, the publication houses a multitude of ephemera collected and created to memorialize the show—a fold-out poster of a series of artworks; contact sheets of photo documentation; Risograph-printed video still; postcards; photocopies; a pamphlet of commissioned essays, all sealed in a bespoke file folder in either grey or lilac. Available at our web bookstore.

This publication was the first under our new imprint for visually-focused projects called Copy Shop Books. We have a couple more exciting Copy Shop projects in the pipeline so stay tuned!

That's all for now!

We've got some super cool projects planned for the coming months, so be sure to follow us on socials to keep up to date. And if you made it all the way to the end of this update, thanks! Reward yourself with 15% off by using code NEWSLETTER15, valid in our web bookstore until Oct 15, 11:59pm ADT.

Hope to see you at a book launch or two! Until then, enjoy this cozy fall season.
